ERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

sociation of whose organization we gave t a few days since, is now ready to is-hares. As it is with the exception (the Homestead Association) the pioneer h of that kind in this city, it may be gh to state what are its purposes, and ner in which it is proposed to conduct its
s. The purposes of these Homestead ions are not at all speculative in the ornse of the word. They are dependent profits of their investment upon the satison the co-operation of many individuals olders—and the advance in values of all ing lands by reason of the expansion of o and demand for room outside of, but r, the city. The Riverside Homestead ion has a fraction over one hundred and acres of land situated just south of n on the east side of the river, the neardary line being about one mile from the ding at East Portland. The tract lies rip along the Willamette river, half a mile , and another strip along the Oregon and n railroad, half a mile in length, the two eing connected near the middle by two blocks (with a street between them), the orming a figure not unlike the letter H. ided into 74 blocks, 200 feet square (with unning at right angles) and 80 fraction-along the river front. The shares now worth $60 per share. It will be seen that thus represents nearly a lot with an unditerest in the 80 fractional lots. The 80 frachares are to be sold off at the proper time benefit of the Association, shareholders in for the proceeds in proportion to the of shares held. When all shares are and the Association shall determine a person owns a particular lot or block, willing to pay $100 or $500 premium (more n the case may be) he pays it and takes or block as his individual property, the being divided among the whole number holders. It will be seen, therefore, that ing is no-operative, and all interests malo man can make a dollar out of it with-making a dollar for every other equal lder. There is no chance for loss, unless perty, by some chance, should depreciate w the first actual cost. Whether this is happen in the case of this particular land must be judged by each for himself; idering the steady and unprecedented ad-n real estate in this city and neighborod at East Portland and vicinity, for the ar or two, it seems hardly possible for e Riverside Association all proper precau-m to have been taken to guard against ities of shares. No person is allowed to w than the number of shares representing ocks, or twenty-four lots, and votes deg the operations of the Association are ed in the same manner. The buyers of may pay down $50 per share, which will them from all assessments, or they may quarterly with an assessment of $3 per ayable with the first installment, being this latter case to another (and only one assessment of $5 per share. Upon the t of the shares in full, with the assessments e, the holder is entitled to his certificate part of the tract lying along the river is latious, nearly level, about 50 to 90 feet he water. There is no part of the front blocks but commands a splendid view of d and the river for miles up and down.

That part of the tract lying along the is, every foot of it, of the richest loam adapted to gardening purposes. A beau-tle stream of pure water runs through the entire length of the wing of the tract, g the means of irrigation and power ref-o supply pure water to every part of the act. There is not a waste lot or fractional the entire tract. Under all these advanwould seem impossible that there should chance of loss to shareholders. Within a h shareholder, if he choose, may get a title to as many lots as his shares may nt, or he may continue his interest, and-with the Association while the organizay exist.—Oregonian.

Phases of the War

The war on the part of France appears to have degenerated into something very like passive sullen non resistance The French will neither make a race nor present the war with creditable spirit and vigor The leading characteristic of the movement seems to be unresisting imbecility Knowing that they have been betrayed by incompetent leadership from the beginning of the war, the French people appear to have lost their ardor and spirit and hence they make no effort worthy of them

But though the French soldiery is cowering, formidable a winter campaign in France is full of difficulty and peril to the Germans It is true the Germans are irresistible wherever they move in force excepting in front of Paris that Paris itself may be compelled by starvation to surrender before the first of January next that the French so far have not had enterprise and spirit enough to cut the German lines of communication for a single day, and that the French show an unaccountable sluggishness in response to the calls for volunteers But, meanwhile the German army is suffering severely from disease and from the ordinary casualties of war There is another consideration too, which is presented with great force by an observant writer Speaking of the German army he says Taken as it is mainly out of the producing and business classes of the nation is protracted absence is beginning to very seriously affect the whole body politic The Prussian military system is admirably adapted for a short, sharp and decisive campaign but it makes no provision for protracted operations, and can make none that will prevent a general confusion and distress In every German community men of all classes and conditions are suddenly taken from their avocations, and the derangement that ensues is as inevitable as it must be disastrous when the absence of the conscripts extends beyond a few months.

There are considerations which show that the continuance of the war must be damaging to Germany as well as to France There will probably be no more of such deadly fighting as has been witnessed, but the mortality of the armies engaged in a winter campaign will be great. Undoubtedly, too, the industrial system of Germany is suffering severely by the withdrawal of so many men for army service so the whole calamities of the war are not on the side of France

Retrenchment and Its Champions

The Legislature, though censuring the State Printer for "gross frauds' perpetrated by him in doing the printing of the session nevertheless put up a job to help that officer out of his "frauds." very largely Always the State Printer has received one hundred dollars for publishing in a newspaper the laws of a session This rule has been in force from the time Oregon became a State till now But the Legislature at the late session repealed this law, and substituted for it an act which gives the State Printer thirty-five dollars per column for printing the session laws in a newspaper! Under this arrangement the Printer will receive some thousands of dollars for a service which has always heretofore been performed for one hundred! The present State Printer has received for printing in his paper the one act amendatory of our city charter almost as much as he ever paid to any of his predecessors for printing the whole laws of a session. This is an atrocious partisan swindle. It is downright robbery of the taxpayers of the State The Democratic party came into power on a pledge of retrenching expenditures. How has it redeemed that pledge? It has not cut off or reduced a single item of expense to which the State has heretofore been subject but on the contrary it has increased for the benefit of its pets and partisans the expenditures of the State in almost every particular The Herald which has howled long and loud about Radical 'extravagance,' is now loading itself with the spoils of the State Treasury It is persistent, ingenious, greedy and shameless in its robberies, it is afflicted with a brainy, an insatiable voracity, its lust of plunder exceeds anything ever before witnessed in Oregon. This is the paper be it known and remembered, that is the organ of retrenchment! It is clear now why the Herald was so anxious to have the State Treasury opened It has taken its station at the public crib and is gorging and gorging, and crying for more Certainly, 'tis the Herald that is the friend of the people and the champion of retrenchment.

Local Self-Government.

Recently the New York Times charged that Gov Hoffman had nominated men known to be corrupt, to occupy the most important judicial positions in that city and State A few months ago when the World was opposing Tammany it declared that Judges had been "put up in the court house who sold justice for a price, —referring to these appointees of Hoffman's whom the Times denounces. The World however has since been induced by Tammany's cash to change its course, and the Times in pointing out the corruptions of Hoffman's Judges refers to what the World said about them before its sale to the corruptionists The only excuse that the latter can offer is that the Judges nominated by the Governor are residents of New York City, and the Governor was under no obligation to 'import Judges from one department into another Another excuse is also offered by the World for the Governor and it is chiefly for the purpose of bringing the point involved in this excuse before our readers in this city that we have noticed this matter The World says that Gov Hoffman 'followed the spirit of the Democratic party, that each locality shall be governed by officers elected by itself' Is this indeed, the "spirit of the Democratic party? Then how widely has the Democratic Legislature of Oregon departed from that spirit in setting up a government in this city which has no responsibility to the people in taking away from the people here the democratic right of local self-government and in placing their destinies in the hands of an autocrat at the State Capital, fifty miles away The World's observations point an idea which men in Oregon who call themselves Democrats may ponder

Yesterday the telegraph worked no further than Eugene City, the heavy storm having prostrated it south of that point. We are therefore without intelligence relative to the elections At 2 o clock P M on Tuesday the election was progressing quietly in New York City, which indicates that the preparations of the National authorities to enforce the law had the effect to calm the Tammany blusterers The Chicago Tribune of the 28th ult. said Backed by three or four regiments of natural troops in the harbor it would appear that the law is not a mere institution as it was If Hibernian fraternities that were going to make a riddle of Lafayette Park on election day, were prevented from doing so by the presence of a few companies of soldiers, the city which closed on the 1st inst, was thousands below the vote cast in some former elections If the Irish been efficiently confined and even a reasonable check put upon repeating the Democratic majority in the city ought to be from thirty to forty thousand Still it is not pretty clear that the State has not been pulled through the storm, though certainly by a majority difficult to guess

Many of the Southern papers affect to believe that great injustice was done the late Gen Robert E Lee by the confiscation of the Arlington estate and he not yet attained the hope that that will be given to Mrs Lee or her family by the Legislature but the property turned over to the Lee family Here is something to that effect from the Augusta (Ga) Constitutionalist of the 23d ultimo

The Federal soldiers were buried there purposely It was intended that the Lee estate should be ruined and that the wrong of the confiscation should never be righted It may not at present be a desirable residence but we predict that at some future time it will be an exceedingly valuable farm The heroism of the first Revolution have not had their graves respected and the victims of the second will sooner or later share the same fate

The Wilmington (N C) Star thinks the property should be restored but has no hope that this will be done and says that the Government will be content with confiscating the gross income due Gen Lee

According to a recent call by the Sir Francis Head is ex Governor of Upper Canada and a traveler and man of letters whose achievements extend over two generations has been uttering some lively truths about English criticism upon the Prussian terms of peace The veteran author and statesman points out the absurdity there would be in a nation which has annexed more subjects and territory than all Europe contains making a formal protest against the acquisition by Germany of two paltry provinces The pertinence of these remarks to the present situation in Europe is very striking

THE TERRITORIES

Work has been resumed on Messrs Meigs & Crawley's large clipper ship, being built at Port Madison, Puget Sound The decks are now laid, and the planking is progressing rapidly The work is under the superintendence of Mr D S Lombard

The way a Colorado deacon laid up treasures in heaven is thus touchingly recorded on his tomb stone "When circumstances rendered it impossible for him to attend the stated preaching of the Gospel he made it a sacred rule to kill an Indian every Sabbath

Of the Montana Penitentiary the Deer Lodge city New Northwest says "It is an excellent building, and stands in solemn grandeur at one end of the town, a reminder to evil doers an evidence of the superior quality of the Deer Lodge building materials and McBurney's faithfulness as a contractor Further than this it is as useless yet, as the fifth wheel to a coach

The Tumwater Falls near Olympia, are divided into four cataracts of twenty one feet each, which make a fall of 84 feet in all The average amount of power will not fall short of 4,000 horse, and the most favorable feature in this stream is, the water in the highest freshets never exceeds in volume a depth of four feet on the present mill dams For years past the mills have not been obliged to stop at any time, on account of high freshets.

The railroad of the Lake Washington Coal Co, near Seattle, which has been in course of construction for a considerable length of time, was opened a few days ago, and commenced to haul coal from the first trip of the cars The shoots at the mine are nearly completed A wharf is now in contemplation A steamboat is soon to be built for towing barges The company is now prepared to meet all the demands of the citizens for coal, and at lower rates than ever before

The Italian Government and the Pope

BY TELEGRAPH

ROME Nov 1 —[Herald special] The following conditions were announced by the Italian Government on taking possession of Rome

All political authority of the Pope and the Holy See in Italy is abolished

The Pope will be entirely free in the exercise of the ecclesiastical rights he will now possess as supreme chief of Catholicism and will enjoy all the honor and liberties which constitute sovereign prerogatives He will dispose of and provide for his Court as he has up to the present time

Territorial immunity will be accorded the Holy See so that free and independent, it may at home and abroad take care of the interests and exercise the authority of the Church

All Italian and foreign prelates cardinals bishops spiritual bodies and ecclesiastical bodies will enjoy immunity at the place of residence in Rome of the head of the Church whether summoned by a Council or any other purpose

That the Holy See will be able to communicate freely and independently at home and abroad with the Powers and clergy the postal telegraph service will be placed wholly at its disposal

The representatives of the foreign Powers at the Holy See will enjoy complete liberty as at other sovereign courts The Pope when envoys and delegates will be treated like ambassadors of foreign sovereigns

The Pope and church shall enjoy unlimited liberty of publication at the Holy See a place of residence of all personal communications

The Pope shall have full liberty to travel at all times in and out of the country Italy will consider him as a foreign sovereign and he will be treated and honored as such throughout the Kingdom

The appanage of his Holiness and his Court shall be furnished by Italy who also assumes the debt hitherto contracted by the Pontifical States.

For the tranquility of the Catholic world and the Powers Italy proposed to examine the liberties of the church and the independence of the Pope by sanctioning them in an International Congress

By these concessions the Government wishes to prove to Europe that Italy respects the sovereignty of the Pope conformably to the principle of a free church in a free State

During the last two days the Ambassador of Austria and the Ministers of Holland and Portugal were presented by his Holiness

It is believed that the Pope wisely accepts the situation and approves Austria taking the lead in calling an International Congress which will formally receive his sanction of the above conditions

There is at least one woman suffragist who prefers the comforts of home to the hurly burly of politics Mrs Elizabeth Cady Stanton having been invited to run for Congress in one of the Brooklyn districts writes from her home in Bergen county New Jersey declining the honor Her language in addressing the committee is "I am old enough and have been a citizen long enough to qualify me for a seat in Congress to represent your district, but I am not willing to leave my charming home on the blue hills of Jersey, and become a denizen of your dirty town as according to the strict letter of article I of the Constitution I should be compelled to do before election Sensible Mrs Stanton

THE COMMISSIONERS—Messrs Burch Ames and Bonham, the Commissioners appointed by the late legislature to examine into and report upon everything and everybody in Oregon came down yesterday We do not know, but presume they are in quest of information upon one or more of the 1001 matters referred to them

PERSONAL—Judge Kennedy of the Washington Territory Judiciary arrived, in the city yesterday from Walla Walla by way of Vancouver The Judge will remain here a few days and then go on to Olympia, to attend the annual term of the Supreme Court, which will meet on the first Monday of December

BRIEF MENTION—The Board of Trade for Portland will hold its next regular meeting next Tuesday evening at the Council Chamber

The Herald says the Salem flouring mill has shipped to this city within the past year 40 000 barrels of flour

There is at present a considerable demand for dwelling houses Those renting for $12 to $22 are often most inquired for

The new steamer Lurline is now making regular daily trips to Oswego City and Vancouver arriving here at 10 A M and leaving at 1 P M

Mrs Mattie Ladd the lecturess went to Astoria yesterday having been detained nearly a day in Monday when we chronicled her departure She will probably return here next week

Several families left here yesterday morning by the Ballou's for Lafayette Oregon

Dr G W Brown of this city has issued a prospectus for the Portland Medical College

The brig Active was seen standing off the bar when the steamer came in

The ferry boat brought up another engine or the railroad ferry boat

DAN FISH THEATRE—The popular old tragedy of Lucretia Borgia was performed last night Mrs Bates as Lucretia Borgia Mr Bates as Gennaro and Mr Vinson the Duke of Ferrara We do not need to tell Portland theater goers that Mrs Bates personated the wicked Duchess with surpassing power and fidelity In the historic character it is one of her greatest and best studied personations and since her first appearance in this city the piece has had only to be announced to draw a full house As Gennaro Mr Bates always acts well and never fails to win the generous applause of the audience We thought Tom particularly successful in some of his assistant parts The closing act in which occurs the most fearful tragedy of all the death of mother and son each by the hand of the other was wrought up with great power and the principal actors in it Mr and Mrs Bates were called before the curtain—a compliment seldom paid by a Portland audience to any actor or actress Mr Vinson in the poisoning scene was excellent indeed, portraying with fine effect the rage of jealousy and hate There were a few passages in which some of the minor actors dragged somewhat but other than this the tragedy was excellently performed throughout

DEATH AT SEA—On the 7th inst, during the passage of the steamship Colorado from San Francisco to this port a little daughter aged three years of a Mr Thos Bainbridge died on board the ship The corpse was brought to this city and buried yesterday Mr Bainbridge with his family left Derbyshire England Oct 5th for Oregon direct intending to settle in the Lumpqua valley This is the first arrival that we know of of an emigrant family direct from England to Oregon We sincerely hope that the bereaved family will meet with such hospitality and success in their future new home as will condone them as far as such things can, for the affliction through which they have just passed

THEATRICAL—OLD ACQUAINTANCES—We see by Figaro of October 28 that Sallie Hinckley & Co were at that date lessees of the Metropolitan Theater San Francisco Of people well known to the Portland theater goers, the company had Miss Sallie Hinckley and Messrs Pierre Thayer Wm Barry Milton Nobles Ed Thayer and W H Hamilton The Chronicle of the 3th instant, in its theatrical notices announces that the company had, the day before, closed a short and unremunerative season

ARRIVED—The bark Whistler, Capt C S Simpson, arrived yesterday, fourteen days from San Francisco to the mouth of the Columbia river She sailed on the 22d ult and crossed the bar last Saturday During the first ten days out she encountered strong northerly winds, and for the last four days had very strong southeast winds She brings nearly 500 tons assorted merchandise to consignees in this city

DOWN THE RIVER—Our correspondent at Astoria Nov 7th, says The weather has been very stormy for the last three days, and last night we had a pretty severe frost Judge Stout of your city is here and is improving in health The sea air appears to agree with him The bark Alpha was towed to sea to-day A fine sailing arrived from Portland this evening—the first thing of the kind we ever had

FREIGHT FROM SAN FRANCISCO—The steam ship California brought up over 400 tons of merchandise—all she could stow Other freight was offered which she was compelled to refuse The bark Whistler which arrived last evening brought nearly 500 tons

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALL POX—We are informed that a woman on Taylor street has the small pox There is however, no occasion to get excited, as all necessary precautions are enforced to prevent contagion

FOR CHINA—The bark Edward James will sail to-day for Hong Kong Judge McCoy, agent for the Chinese firms to whom the vessel is under charter, goes out in her for the round trip

System run Down.

Persons often allow their systems to run down or rather run them down by over work accompanied by a neglect of the proper means of invigoration The result is what is called GENERAL DEBILITY in other words a failure and partial collapse of the physical forces accompanied usually by great depression of spirits

The best remedy in such cases is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Whether the state of exhaustion has been brought on by excessive physical labor dissipation anxiety of mind exposure to any other cause the remedial effect of this great stomachic will be found equally prompt and certain As a restorative, after severe sickness has prostrated the bodily and mental energies it is pronounced by competent medical authority THE BEST TONIC in use If men were not foolishly unmindful of their health and over confident of themselves, they would always when engaged in any work that required great exertion use corresponding means of sustaining their strength For this purpose Hostetter's Bitters are invaluable All toilers should use them systematically

Persons constantly employed in indoor occupations especially in confined work at night may be reckoned as the very best subjects of Health Where there is a predisposition to constipation or a tendency to bili ousness they may be truly said to be a specific for which there is no substitute

Eugenie.

SOME REMINISCENCES OF THE EX-EMPRESS, BY WASHINGTON IRVING.

The history of the recent Empress (who is now nothing more than Madame Bonaparte) is a very curious illustration of the freaks of fortune. In 1853 Irving writes thus to a lady:

"I know the grandfather of the Empress, old Mr. Kirkpatrick, who has been American Consul at Malaga. I passed an evening at his house in 1827. A week or two afterward I was at the house of his son-in-law, the Count Teba, a gallant and intelligent gentleman of Grenada, much cut up in the wars, having lost an eye and been maimed in a leg and hand. His wife, the daughter of Mr. Kirkpatrick, was absent, but he had a family of little girls about him. Several years afterward, when I had recently taken up my abode in Madrid, I was invited to a grand ball at the house of the countess of Montijo, one of the leaders of the ton. On making my bow to her, I was surprised at being received by her with the warmth and eagerness of an old friend. She claimed me as the friend of her late husband, the Count Teba, subsequently Marquis Montijo, who, she said, had often spoken of me with the greatest regard. She subsequently introduced me to the little girls I had known at an early day, who had become fashionable belles of Madrid. One of those now sits on the throne of France."

A short time afterward, Irving writes thus to another niece, Mrs. Sorrow, who was then residing at Paris:

"You give an account of the marriage procession of Louis Napoleon and his bride to the Church of Notre Dame, and one of your letters speaks of your having been presented to the Empress. Louis Napoleon and Eugenie Montijo, Emperor and Empress of France! one of whom I have had on a guest at my cottage on the Hudson, and the other woman, when a child, I have had on my knee at Grenada. It seems to me the climax of the strange dramas of which Paris has been the theater during my lifetime. The last I saw of Eugenie Montijo she was one of the reigning belles of Madrid; and she and her giddy circle had swept my charming young friend, the beautiful, accomplished Sigmorita ——, into their career of fashionable dissipation. Now, Eugenie is on the throne, while —— is a voluntary recluse in a convent of one of the most rigorous orders. Poor ——! Perhaps, however, her fate may ultimately be the happier of the two. With her the storm is over, and she is at rest, but the other is launched upon a dangerous sea, infamous for its tremendous shipwrecks. Am I to live to see the catastrophe of her career, or the end of this suddenly-conjured-up empire, which seems to be made of such airy materials?

"My personal acquaintance with the individuals who figure in this historical romance gives me uncommon interest in it; but I consider it cramped with danger and instability, and as liable to disastrous vicissitudes as one of Dumas' novels. You do well to witness the grand features of this passing pageant. You are probable reading one of the most pregnant and eventful pages of history, and may live to look back upon it as a romantic tale."

Irving's words now sound prophetic, and to add to their force it may be added that, although he is dead, the lady to whom they were addressed has lived to witness that catastrophe of which he spoke. Eugenie's grandfather, Mr. Kirkpatrick, although American Consul at Malaga, was a Scotchman by birth, and started plebeian extraction. A schoolmaster of the same name, living in Glasgow, was commonly styled the "cousin of the Empress." The wheel of fortune, by this turn, only brings Eugenie back to the level of her ancestors.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.—A BOY WEDS HIS GOVERNESS AT NEW ORLEANS.—The New Orleans [illegible] of the 18th inst has the following:

A few days since, a well-dressed and handsome young man, about twenty years of age, applied before one of our city magistrates and said he desired to engage his services in the matrimonial capacity. The reply was in the affirmative, and the young man, effectively forward, returned, accompanied by a well-looking female, middle-aged, and dressed in black.

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the youth, as the lady drew aside her veil, displaying a countenance wreathed and sere, but on which for the moment gleamed a sort of icy smile.

"Indeed."

"Oh, yes, sir."

"But are you of age?"

"Not yet, but this lady is my guardian?"

"Yes, sir."

The magistrate was in a quandary. He didn't know exactly what to do. He hated to deprive the youth, and join the bright-faced May to the gloomy, icy December. "Isn't there rather a large union?" he asked.

"Not at all," replied the expectant bride. "I have a large amount of property which I desire to leave this young man. As I have no heirs who might dispute the will were I to give him as a legacy, I prefer to marry him."

"And you are content to marry this woman for her money?" asked the justice.

"Well, I shouldn't marry her for anything else!" frankly replied the boy lover. "She aint pretty."

And without more ado the ceremony was concluded.

This fusion sarcastically remarks that anybody who dies really requiring war news must subscribe to the New York Herald, the Europ[illegible] dispatches of which are really as horrible as anything so any body can wish for.

"The way the Germans are nearly every day [illegible] in its columns is positively inhuman. Against a neutral paper. At the last great battle before Paris, the Germans not only had their [illegible] lines broken in, but were slaughtered and otherwise disposed of to the extent of eighty (eighty?) thousand men, not to speak of artillery and [illegible]. The poor devils are now crouching in the woods around Paris, badly cowed. At Sedan, the slaughter too was so dreadful that the duke of Mecklenburg Schwerin wept and wrung his hands. From the accounts given by the World of the earlier portion of the campaign, we felt satisfied that the affair would end pretty much as the World describes it, that is, in the imprisonment of the whole Prussian army around Paris, with ninety peasants rising around them, the great guns of the fortresses playing on them, Garibaldi and Rossina cutting off their retreat to the Rhine, and the National Guard cutting off everything else, and the Crown Prince wasting away with hunger, in Versailles. They now see how much better it would have been for them to have surrendered at Sedan, as the French would then have let them go home."

STATISTICS OF SLAUGHTER.—It may be useful to recall the slaughter of some of our famous battles, for acomprisom with those lately fought in France. At Murfreesboro, (Dec. 31, 1862), there was 80,000 men engaged, in both armies, and the loss was 24,000, or almost one-third of the combatants. At Gettysburg (July 3 and 4, 1863), the number of men engaged being upward of 150,000, the loss on both sides approached closely to 60,000 men, and of these three-fourths were killed or wounded, the Confederates thus losing 28,000 men, and the Union army 17,000. During the six weeks that followed the beginning of Lee's movement to the North his loss amounted to about 80,000 men, of whom almost three fourths were killed or wounded; and in the same weeks the Union army had, it is probable, 35,000 men disposed of in the same way. In thirty-seven days that followed the opening of the campaign of Gen. Grant, in Virginia (May 5, 1864), the army under his command had about 45,000 men killed or wounded, without counting those who at the same time fell in the army of the James, or in the smaller bodies engaged in Virginia; and Gen. Lee had about 25,000 men killed or wounded.

A gentleman dropped a letter in Memphis the other day. A bystander picked it up and returned it to the owner saying: "You have dropped a paper, sir; it may be valuable." The gentleman thanked him, looked at the wandering document, and replied: "Valuable! not at all, it's only a love letter." Sentimental young ladies can make a note of this.

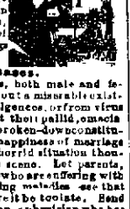
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Seminal and Sexual Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) of Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Loathsome pustules, ulcerated throats and disfiguring faces and limbs broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Dr. Gibbon, a physician who has made it a study for years to cure these diseases by vegetable remedies, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest this city and advertise to cure all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of miserable symptoms, unless counteracted by the only effectual measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the kidneys, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and premature insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove to the satisfaction of him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through W
